Public Trailheads on San Juan Island

North

At the north end of the island, Roche Harbor Trails and Roche Harbor Highlands (around Briggs Lake) are privately owned by generous owners who make them available to the public. All of these north-end trails are on printed maps available in map boxes at the trailheads, or in the English Camp visitor center open in the summer only. Alternatively, you can scan a QR Code with your smart phone or tablet.

Roche Harbor Trails

- 1 Near the Roche Harbor Resort Arch alongside the Roche Harbor airport
- 2 The disc golf course on Rouleau Road
- 3 Parking area at the intersection of Roche Harbor Road and West Valley Road

Central

Mount Grant Preserve

- 8 The Mount Grant Preserve* is the newest hiking acquisition on the island. It's 5 miles from town on West Valley Road, marked with a thermometer-type sign showing the progress of fund-raising for its acquisition. Two paved roads almost make a loop to the top (exception is about 100 ft. of narrow, slippery dirt trail near the top on one side). The main paved road is open to vehicles on publicly-announced dates, and both are open every day to hikers, bikers, and horse riders. It was jointly acquired by the San Juan Preservation Trust and the County Land Bank.

West

San Juan County Park

- 9 On the west side is San Juan County Park* with a number of trails and views over Haro Strait.

Lime Kiln Park Area

Lime Kiln Point State Park* (aka Whale Watch Park) and the Land Bank's Limekiln Preserve have interconnecting trails. There are posted maps both in the State Park and in the Land Bank Preserve.

- 10 11 Land Bank parking areas at the gate* (10) or West Side Lake* (11)
- 12 The large parking lot at the State Park (requires a Discover Pass**)
- 13 Land Bank parking areas at Deadman Bay
- 14 15 Land Bank parking areas at the West Side Preserve

East

The Town to American Camp Trail

This trail is signed all the way to American Camp, though portions are on road shoulders. It includes the Minnie Mae Trail (24) just north of the golf course, and much of it is on airport property.

- 28 Friday Harbor on Spring Street across from the baseball field
- 25 Shelter Road
- 24 Minnie Mae Trail
- 23 The golf course
- 16 The American Camp visitor center

Roche Harbor Highlands / English Camp / Mitchell Hill

The Roche Harbor Highlands and Mitchell Hill trails are open to bikers and horse riders as well as hikers.

- 4 Parking area at the intersection of Roche Harbor Road and West Valley Road
- 5 English Camp parking lot*
- 6 On the shoulder of West Valley Road to access the trail up Young Hill with its great views and the connecting trail to Mitchell Hill
- 7 A small parking area on Horse Trail Road* - access to the Mitchell Hill area, which connects to Roche Harbor Highlands

South

American Camp and Cattle Point

American Camp* at the south end of the island offers a number of trails. Maps and advice are available in the visitor center, open year round.

- 16 American Camp Visitor Center - Access the American Camp Trail (ACT) back to Friday Harbor (6 mi.). Or walk east to the Redoubt, the South Beach Trail, or Grandma's Cove
- 17 Fourth of July Beach* to walk the beach on Griffin Bay
- 18 South Beach* - walk the beach or up the South Beach Trail across the prairie toward the American Camp Redoubt
- 19 Jakle's Lagoon* - walk the old logging roads and the high view trail over Mt. Finlayson
- 20 Road shoulder - access the trail to Cattle Point Lighthouse
- 21 Cattle Point Interpretive Center* ** Beach area or walk back on the road shoulder (20) to the trails to the lighthouse.
- 22 Cape San Juan Marina at the very end of Cattle Point Road. (Park on the west side - not the private side) to access trails into American Camp, Jakle's Lagoon, and Mt. Finlayson.

East

Jackson's Beach and Lafarge Open Space

- 26 Jackson's Beach* is an ideal place for a picnic or beachcombing just 2 miles from the ferry landing. Amenities include beach volleyball courts, restrooms, plenty of parking spaces, a free boat launch, and 3 picnic sites complete with fire rings and BBQ grills.
- 27 Lafarge Open Space*, better known as the gravel pit, is located across Pear Point Road from Jackson's Beach. This area is undeveloped and activity is limited to walking on the graded roadways only. Off-leash dogs allowed per county ordinance 19-2006.

Lunch possibilities (all open to the public) along these trails include Roche Harbor Resort year-round, Ernie's at the airport Mon-Fri 10am-2pm year-round, the golf course during the golfing season, and Red Checkered Picnics at Lime Kiln Point State Park Thu-Sun during the summer.

Numbered locations are main Trail Heads. Additional trail access points exist for some of these trails and these can be seen on detail maps.

*Signs for these areas visible from the road

** Discover Pass required. (The state legislature does not provide funding for state parks and instead requires them to raise money through parking fees.) Pass is $10/day or $30/year available on line or at many hardware stores, and at the Park during the summer. Day pass available at the Park year-round. All other trail parking on the island is free.
